Your honor and staff,

I have read <http://www.usdoj.gov/atr/cases/f9400/9495.htm> the proposed final judgement and REJECT IT COMPLETELY. If I read this document in a vacuum, I would evaluate it as an analysis and suggestion list submitted to a boss, whom you want to help, but who you do not wish to anger for fear of losing your job. Well you don't work for Microsoft, Redmond Washington, or NYSE, you work for me, and all other lone single citizen of these United States. I have no vested interest in this case, but a huge one in keep the courts sane and just.

Please use critical thinking skills when evaluating YOUR corporate masters. All you have to evaluate are motives, actions, and integrity. Everything else is snake oil.

The decision is yours, my confidence in knowing that Microsoft will receive any punishment what so ever, is gone. Most likely their punishment will be to deliver a billion dollars worth of new Windows ME computers to school to raise another generations of dull witted consumers.

I am too upset to spell check this document.

Good Day sirs and madams,
Austin King
